AI Healthcare Decision Support Report

Generated: March 07, 2026 16:41:25 Confidential Clinical Analytics

Overall Score: 100.0% (High)

Patient Snapshot

Age: 52

Blood Pressure: 150

Cholesterol: 248

Result Interpretation

Health score is 100.0% (High risk). Your current indicators suggest a high near-term risk profile. Primary risk drivers identified by the models: Blood Pressure (35.3 impact), Cholesterol (33.1 impact), Age (31.6 impact). Confidence: Model agreement is consistent for this estimate.

Monitoring Diagnostics

Drift Detected: False

High Model Disagreement: False

Average Model Probability: 1.0

Active Alerts

- High Risk Alert: Global health score is high. Prioritize clinician review and intervention.

Model Evidence and Action Plan

Model Prediction Breakdown

- Diabetes Model v1.0.0: 100.0% | weight=0.3 | AUC=0.0 F1=0.0

Precautions

- [High] Control Blood Pressure: Track blood pressure daily, reduce sodium intake, and follow clinician guidance on BP management.
- [High] Improve Lipid Profile: Limit fried/processed foods, increase fiber intake, and schedule lipid panel follow-up in 4-8 weeks.
- [Medium] Increase Preventive Screening: Plan regular metabolic and cardiovascular checkups with your healthcare provider.
- [High] Clinical Consultation: Book a physician consultation soon for full diagnostic evaluation and treatment planning.
- [Medium] Sleep and Stress Hygiene: Aim for 7-8 hours of sleep, daily hydration, and stress control practices such as walking or breathing e

General Recommendations

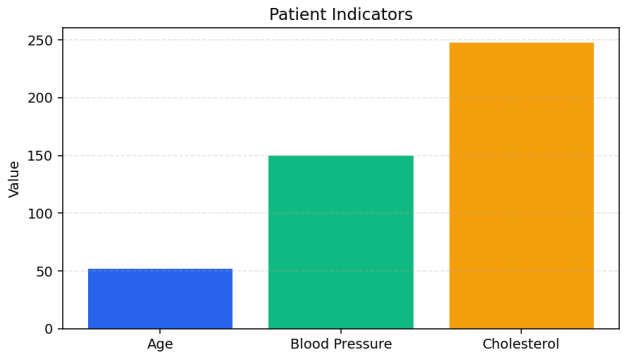
- Consult a physician for comprehensive cardiometabolic evaluation.
- Start strict blood pressure, glucose, and lipid monitoring.
- Adopt physician-guided exercise and nutrition plans immediately.

Top Feature Drivers

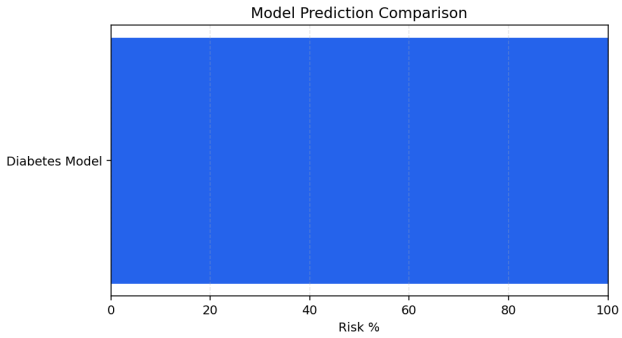
- Blood Pressure: 35.26% cumulative impact
- Cholesterol: 33.11% cumulative impact
- Age: 31.63% cumulative impact

Visual Analytics

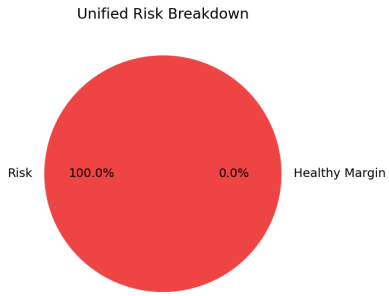
Patient Indicators



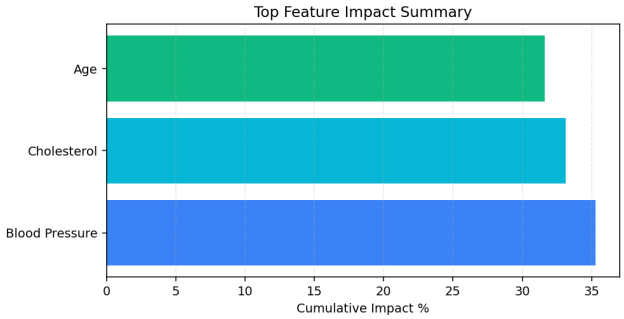
Model Comparison



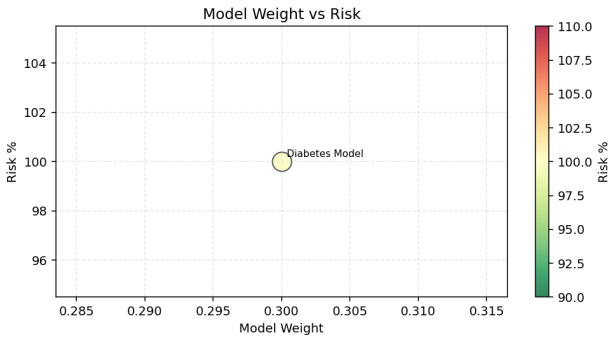
Risk Breakdown

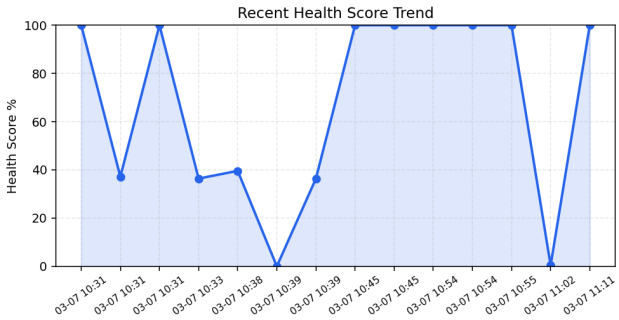


Feature Impact



Weight vs Risk





Historical Trend